

Based Upon: PCT/EP03/01290

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for producing a cover, wherein a special steel blank is deep-drawn and can be placed on an end of a motor vehicle exhaust pipe. Immediately successive method steps makes it possible to economically produce a one-piece cover without subjecting the surface to deterioration and subsequently working the same.